DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Keen (US 6,041,436) in view of Zevchak (US 5,054,127).

Keen teaches a top having a neck portion in an upper central part of a top, two arm passages oppositely located from each other on first and second edges of the top. Front fasteners located along a vertical midline beneath the neck portion on a front of the top (24 and 26). The back fastener (44) on a back of the top opposite the front and attachments for fastening the front and back fasteners with decorative attachments (figure 1). However, Keen fails to teach a pocket next to the fasteners. Zevchak provides pockets next to fasteners (column 1, lines 34-59).

It would have been obvious to have provided the garment of Keen with the pockets of Zevchak, since the pockets located next to the fasteners would provide the garment with a place to hold objects when not in use by the wearer.

It would have been further obvious to have used the garment as any decorative costume including altering the look upon preferences of a diner, since the decorative costume could be created in any look as desired for end use.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 21-23 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 09/19/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Claim 24 stands rejected over Keen in view of Zevchak. There has been no additional structural limitations added to new claim 24 that wasn't rejected in claim 20. All additional changes to the claim are narrative, failing to require any additional structure to the garment.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
